Description

Arnold Schwarzenegger "Conan" hero Atlantean sword from Conan The Destroyer. (De Laurentiis, 1984)
This Arnold Schwarzenegger Conan the Destroyer prop sword is made of solid cast fiberglass. The 39.5 in. sword's 27 in. silver-painted, double-edged blade is engraved at the base with runic hieroglyphs and has a ferrule groove on each side. The gold painted ricasso guard features ornate sculpture of dragons and runs 7 in. up the blade allowing "Conan" a broader grabbing "choke point" for up-close fighting. The grip is sculpted to appear wrapped in beige cord and the gold pommel matches the guard decoration with an intricate skull relief design. The sword is meticulously painted to appear as metal and cord and studio-distressed to appear aged and worn. There is a small chip on one side of blade point. Overall, in production-used good condition. Special shipping arrangements will apply.
